ATTORNEY GENERAL MOODY ACTS TO STOP USE OF STATE EQUIPMENT ON PRIVATE ROAD CONTRACTS.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 18.—An injunction suit by Attorney General Dan Moody to restrain the Sherman & Youmans Construction company of Houston from using State highway department equipment on private contracts was filed Tuesday morning at Houston, it was announced here.

Moody's suit was prepared late Monday night and mailed to the district court of Harris county.

Filing of this suit, because of the attitude taken by the Ferguson administration in declining to promise any action of protest of the contractors, was generally regarded as completing the widening breach between the attorney general's department and the governor's office.

The following equipment, the suit charges, has been put in the hands of the contracting firm by the highway department: One Gilbert maintainer, one Liberty truck, two Champion mowers, one Thomas tractor mower, two trailmobiles, one Indian truck, one Austin, Jr., grader, two Weir maintainers, one five ton Holt tractor, one White truck, three Ford trucks, one asphalt kettle, one Galion Fordson foller.

The company's contract in Houston, on which it is alleged to be using this equipment, is paving Boundary avenue from north Main to city limits of Houston.

Temporary injunction was asked, pending a hearing, when it is asked that the injunction be made permanent, and that costs of the suits be placed upon the defendant company.

Houston, Texas, Aug. 18.—An injunction suit to restrain the Sherman & Youmans Construction company of Houston from using state highway department equipment on private contracts, was filed in district court here today.

The petition was received here today from Attorney General Dan Moody, acting for the state highway department. It seeks to enjoin the use of state equipment by the contractors on private contracts. It bears a copy of the contracts on which the construction company is empowered to use the equipment.

Judge Ewing Boyd said he had not examined the petition, but would likely take some action later in the day.

In a statement Saturday night the company admitted using state owned equipment on a contract it has for improving a stretch of road for the city. The equipment furnished by the state highway department is in bad condition, it was stated, and for that reason the company dislikes to take it out of the city where repairs would be difficult to make. Accordingly the state owned equipment was used in the city on the private contract and equipment owned by the company substituted on the state highways.

DEEP TEST WELLS IN MILAM DOWN 3500 FT

SIMS AND JOHN E. LEE TESTS AND HUGHES WELL BRING INTEREST TO CAMERON

With the reported collapse of the oil boom at Rockdale in so far as it applies to the Magnolia test, interest has centered around the John E. Lee deep test in the Minerva field which is down 3100 feet with considerable lease and royalty buying reported; the Simms well at Jones Prairie which is down 3500 feet but still in the chalk.

Miss Annie Stallworth of the Fidelity Abstract Company who furnished the abstracts for the Sims acreage, says the progress of the well is satisfactory and no trouble has been encountered.

The Hughes well at Branchville is going down with rapidity and a depth of more than 3000 feet has been reached.

The Magnolia well at Rockdale, while not yet abandoned, little hope is held out for it coming in. Sulphur water in strong flow has been encountered, the same as at Thorndale.

It was reported from Rockdale Tusday in the daily press that the exodus of scouts and oil men had begun.

Interest in the deep tests of Milam county will now revert to Cameron.

Lesser Newton is to assume the management of Cheeves Bros. store at McKinney and he and his family are moving to the county capital of Collin.—Rogers News.

New Fire Truck to Reach Cameron on Friday This Week.

The New American FaFrance fire truck purchased by the city at a cost of $12,500 will arrive in Cameron Friday according to Mayor Judd G. Davis who said the truck is now in Waco.

When the truck is received here the fire fighting equipment of the city will compare favorably with towns of this size over Texas and will afford two units for warfare on flames.

The truck is one of the latest models and its capacity is much larger than the present truck.

The truck will be housed in the city hall fire station where the old truck is kept. Frank Richter will be the driver for this truck.

The next he knew two white men were bringing him to town. Burleson says he is a doctor and has a large hospital under construction at Rockdale. He has had considerable trouble with the contractors lately and has been troubled a great deal. He says he has an immense fortune. Hall in discussing his condition says he is "drouth stricken."

SOKOL PROGRAM IS ENJOYED BY HUNDREDS

HUNDREDS ATTEND SUNDAY AFTERNOON ENTERTAINMENT IN CAMERON.

The Buckholts and Seaton societies of the American Sokol Union gave a gymnastic program in the City Park Sunday afternoon with several hundred people attending and enjoying the exhibition.

A concert by the municipal band was begun at 2 o'clock and continued until 3:30 when the Sokol program began.

Music for the exercises was made by Joe Sebestic and musicians from Temple and Buckholts.

Mayor Davis gave the visitors the privileges of the swimming pool and many took advantage to increase their enjoyment of the day.

The play ground equipment was generously used by the children of younger ages. Grady Houston and Wm. Strzinek with cold drink stands furnished refreshments for the crowds

Judge Chas. Chenosky of Houston introduced by Paul Webb, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce said that this was the first time any commercial organizaton haid extended an invitation to the Sokols any where in Texas to give a program. The speech of Judge Chernosky was brief but contained many good expressions, especilly when he touched upon the educational value of the Sokol work in bringing such a measure of physical education to the rural districts.

Judge Chernosky is well known in Cameron and was a university of Texas student with F. S. Lesoovsky and T. S. Henderson, Jr.

Men who belong to the Sokols and who take advantage of the training are always fit for any service in the military branch of the government, the judge said.

The people of Cameron appreciate the importance of this work and many took advantage of the opportunity of witnessing the program and went to the park Sunday afternoon.

John Zalesky had charge of the sale of the tickets, a small ribbon for 25c the proceeds from which went to defray the expenses of the entertainment.

Porf. Jos. Havranak who has developed the Sokol societies at Buckholts and Seaton will leave in a few days for Ennis where he will organize the work there. Recently a gymnastic program was given in Galveston.

At Buckholts John Stasa is president of the society and Mr. Hamuulsek is the instructor and the work will progress under his direction.

FERGUSON PAYS LAST TRIBUTE TO MAN WHOSE FATHER AIDED MOTHER OF THE EX-GOVERNOR.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 18.—Ex-Gov. James E. Ferguson was pall bearer Tuesday for a friend of fifty years standing and in that burial was a touch of sadness and sympathy little known to the other mourners. Capt. W. R. Hendrickson, 72 was buried Tuesday. He had been State Building Inspector since Mr. Ferguson was Governor, the latter having appointed him to that place. The deceased friend knew Mr. Ferguson when he was 4 years old.

Soon after Bill Hendrickson was appointed State Masonry Inspector by Mr. Ferguson a delegation of union men were admitted to the Governor's office and protested that Hendrickson was not a union member. Ferguson said he knew that, but he wanted to tell them a little story, and here is what he said:

"When my father died he left my mother and five children, the eldest of whom was 16 years old. I was next to the youngest, who was 2 years, and I was 4 years old. We were poor as could be, living in a little house where when it rained, all of us had to huddle up in a corner to escape the water which sieved through the roof. In time my good, but poor mother inherited about $400 from a relative and she resolved to put up a house that would place shelter over our heads.

"After she made her estimates she found that a two-room house with a fire place to keep us warm would cost $50 more than she had in money with no prospect of obtaining more. She explained this to the stone mason of the community, John Hendrickson, father of Bill. He instantly said: "You can pay me some time," but my mother protested she did not know when she ever would get that much, Old John immediately assured her that he and his son Bill would be over the next day and start work on the chimney and fire place. They went to the river and fashioned the stone and took weeks to build that chimney to keep my mother and her fatherless warm. It was six of seven years before my mother paid John for the work and she never gave Bill anything.

Bill stays on Job.

"A few days ago Bill came to see me and said: 'Jim, I am old at 61 years and can not climb over walls and ply my trade as before. Can't you give me something to do in my line not so strenuous.' I remembered all he had done and I said yes. I made him State Masonry Inspector and I part of the debt of my dear old mother, and I am not going to change him." felt better as I thought of paying back

With that an old Irishman in the delegation pulled out a red handkerchief, wiped his eyes vigorously, rose from his chair and declared with emphasis: "Boys I'll be d—— if am not through and I have nothing more to say. Let's go."

Bill remained on the job until his death.

T. F. HARDY RETURNS FROM EUROPEAN TOUR

CAMERON BANKER SEES SHOW PLACES OF EUROPE IN SUMMER TOUR.

T. F. Hardy, president of the Cameron State Bank, has returned to Cameron from a trip abroad that took him to the show places of Europe. He arrived in Cameron Saturday afternoon from New York where he landed after sailing with the Armstrong party from LaHarve, France.

Many things of interest about rural life in Europe will be told in the forthcoming issue.

Mr. Hardy says he is glad to get back home and regrets that his friends everywhere were not with him on the recent tour.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON EASY MONEY

"An awfully interesting man came to see me today, Aunt Emmy. He had a list of stocks and bonds that look very favorable to me. Take this," said Helen, handing an alluring looking folder to Aunt Emmy. "This stock is pretty good. The man said it would be quoted at 20 on the exchange a month after it is put out. I can buy shares now at two dollars so I would make eighteen dollars for every two dollars I invest and all inside of four weeks." Helen paused for breath while Aunt Emmy looked at the folder.

"If I were to buy those White Leghorn chickens of yours," remarked Aunt Emmy, "would you promise me their eggs will sell for one dollar and a half a dozen a month from now?"

"Of course not, Aunty," laughed Helen. "The price of eggs depends entirely on the supply and demand in the market."

"Well, how about stocks? Why can this man promise you this stock will be selling for twenty dollars a month from now?"

"Well, I don't know exactly, but the listings on the stock exchange are different, aren't they?"

"The prices of stocks quoted on the stock exchange are influenced by supply and demand like the prices of eggs. No one can honestly guarantee the future price of any stock. A promoter who urges you to buy stock on any such guarantee is misinforming you. A stock salesman you could trust would never make such a statement. If you are going to listen to such talk you'd better put your money in the savings bank."

"But I wouldn't make so much on it!" objected Helen.

"Big profits mean big risks, and you can't afford to take risks," said Aunt Emmy. "The house that gets all its booklet is unknown to you. Why don't you find out who you are dealing with?"

"How can I find out about the thousands of stock houses in the United States?"

"Well," said Aunt Emmy, "if you insist on considering making investments, you ought to at least take the trouble to go to your bank and find out about the people you are dealing with."

"I didn't know banks would bother with anything but actual banking," Helen said.

"They are glad to," Aunt Emmy said. "The more people that save and invest money wisely the better it is for the banks."—A. B. Aymes.

RESTRICTING LOANS ON UNECONOMIC FARMING

Bankers in many of the rural sections of the country are realizing as never before that they cannot afford to loan money for the conduct of farming enterprises where the odds are against that enterprise ever becoming a success. The risk is too great, and what is more it is doing the borrower an injury to encourage him in an unwarranted venture.

Some farmers may resent the idea of being questioned in regard to the use they expect to make of borrowed money. A false idea of their independence may lead them to feel that they can do as they please and follow any system of farming they desire; that it is nobody else's business whether that system is economic or not.

Experiences in certain sections during the past few years demonstrate the folly of such a position. The banker is loaning other people's money and he is duty bound to safeguard what has been entrusted to him. Further, the law holds him responsible. With this obligation resting on his shoulders he has a right to select his customers. If he is convinced that a one-crop system or any other particular type of farming is unsound and is likely to be uneconomic, he is doing an injustice to the borrower as well as the depositor to loan the farmer the money.

Best results will accrue when both the lender and the borrower recognize that they are entering into a partnership and if the advantages and the dangers are frankly and carefully discussed the possibilities of success are greatly enhanced.—Banker-Farmer.

A Few Good "Don'ts"

Don't buy securities that are handled by irresponsible persons or unknown firms.

Don't buy mortgage notes on distant property.

Don't buy stock in new enterprises.

Don't try to work the stock market. If the public were to win, professional operators would soon shut up shop and quit.

Don't buy stock in mines you know nothing about. Many mines are holes where fools dump their money.

Don't buy oil stock.

Don't buy stock in new invention schemes.

Don't buy real estate unless you have seen it. It may be a swamp.

Don't buy from one who says, "Invest now or it will be too late."

Don't buy from one who says, "The price will soon be raised."

Don't buy from one who offers you a discount for cash.

Don't buy anything on "tips."

Have nothing to do with the "bucket shop."

Don't speculate. A rich man can afford to, but you can't.

A splendid rule is, before you buy a security take it to a conservative and disinterested banker and ask him how much he will lend on it alone as security.—Banker-Farmer.

New Refinements Added to Line of Chevrolet Cars.

Detroit, Mich, Aug 18.—Following closely the recent price reduction on Chevrolet closed cars, came the announcement today from W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, that the entire line of both open and closed models has been improved by the addition of numerous refinements.

Included in the list of improvements are new attractive headlights which replace the former type. They are mounted on a heavy tie-bar placed between the front fenders. This arrangement affords better mounting for the headlights and permits them to be interchangeable, eliminating the necessity for right and left hand lamps. The tie-bar also provides a convenient place for carrying the front license plate.

The former steering wheel has been supplanted by a substantial walnut wheel with notched finger-grips. The center of the wheel spider is of polished aluminum.

An improved mounting for the spark and throttle controls has been arranged on the instrument panel.

The gear shift lever has been lengthened three inches.

The horn formerly used has been replaced by a motor driven Klaxon horn.

A heavier tie-rod has been placed between the radiator and dash.

Additional interior reinforcements have been added to the Harrison radiator of rustless airplane metal.

Balloon tires are standard on all closed models.

Indestructible Duco finish is used on both open and closed cars. The sedan is in aquamarine blue and the coach and coupe in sage green. The roadster and touring models are finished in gum metal grey Duco with striping to match and are upholsted in grey which blends pleasingly with the body finish.

"Chevrolet's unprecendented leap into favor as the most popular gear-shift car has brought production and sales to a record point which enables us to offer an even better value," said Mr. Knudsen in commenting on the lowered price of the closed cars. "Only those refinements were adopted which we found after exhaustive tests to be of practical value and increased utility, and in keeping with our policy of building a quality car at the lowest cost."

The new prices on the closed models are: Coupe, $675; Coach $695; Sedan $775. The revised price list represents a reduction of $40 each on the coupe and coach and $50 on the Sedan.

IRRIGATION TO MAKE BALE TO THE ACRE

FRANK WORLEY INSTLLS AN IRRIGATION PLANT WITH REMARKABLE SUCCESS.

If any of the the Reporter's readers desire to see a first class illustration of an oasis in a desert land let them drive out to the farm of Frank Worley, about ten miles from Rockdale on the San Gabriel road, and see what Mr. Worley is doing during this year of the big drouth with a small irrigation plant.

With a Fordson tractor and a centrifugal pump, a few joints of six-inch well casing, a couple of hundred feet of flume, and a quarter- mile irrigation ditch, Mr. Worley is the proud possessor of the best piece of cotton in Machless Milam.

The acreage under irrigation in cotton is 35 acres. The cotton is the celebrated Worley-Boykin variety, and was planted on May 10. The drouth continued and all of Mr. Worley's cotton stopped growing; in fact a complete cotton failure stared him in the face. He already owned a Fordson, so he bought the pump and other equipment, and arranged to irrigate this 35 acre piece which is suitably situated adjacent to San the Gabriel River.

On July 10 he gave it its first wetting, and about two weeks later he irrigated it again. The result is almost miraculous. The plants are large and thrifty and full of fruit. Mr. Worley thinks he will make fully a bale to the acre, provided no pest attacks the field. A stalk pulled up at random by the editor and brought to town shows twenty-one bolls already made.

The army worm made its appearance in the field recently, but Mr. Worley was watching for this pest and was ready with the right poison properly administered, and has won that battle already. He says the field needs no more watering. At the time of the last cultivation he planted hegira in every other row, hoping to make a crop of feed on this acreage but the cotton plants are too rank, he thinks now, to make this venture a success.

Mr. Worley has not had a heavy investment in doing this irrigation. The actual pumping time was 14 days and the cost was only $12 per day. With a yield of 30 bales his investment will pay him handsomely, particularly so as the seed from this fine cotton brings an unusually good price. He has been propogating the Worley-Boykin cotton seed for several years, and last year sold over 500 bushels. Without this 35 acre irrigated field he would have been put out of the pure-bred seed business by the drouth, but as it is he will have plenty for his own use and goodly quantity for sale. This spring, anticipating a good yield of this breed of seed which was widely planted in his neighborhood, he erected a new and modern 4 stand gin on which to gin nothing but the Worley-Boykin cotton. Of course, under the circumstances of the drouth, his ginning venture will not pay him this year, although it will enable him to be sure of his fine seed not becoming mixed with other breeds. He thinks he may possibly be called upon to gin 50 or 60 bales besides his own crop.

The Reporter man in company with Ed. Simms, H. C. Meyer and W. C. McGregor, of San Antonio, drove out to the Worley farm Monday to see this cotton, and it is a sight worth seeing. On the other hand, the sight of that fine black land section of Matchless Milam land waste by the withering drouth of the past 14 months is absolutely pitiful. Nothing like it was ever before seen in this county, and we find comfort in believing never will be seen again.

Mr. Worley, while through irrigating his cotton, is now engaged in wetting down eight or ten acres of land which he will plant to truck crops. He hopes to place on the late market spinach, turnips, peas, roasting ears and other truck at a time when such articles of diet are very scarce.

Mr. Worley deserves great credit for the fight he has made against the great drouth of 1925, and has set his neighbors along the beautiful San Gabriel river a striking example of foresightedness, pluck and energy.—Rockdale Reporter.

Bushdale Has One of Few Monuments Erected to "Yankee."

Rockdale, Texas, Aug. 15.—Comfort, fifty miles from San Antonio, claims the distinction of having the "only monument erected to Union soldiers south of Mason and Dixon's line," but Rockdale possesses a similar monument in the Bushdale community burial ground, about three miles from the city limits of Rockdale. This beautiful monument is a life-size figure carved in Italian marble with the identical features of the deceased and mounted on a granite base eight feet high. It bears this inscription: "Herman Henniger, born in Wilhelmsdorf, Germany, Dec. 6, 1838; died Jan. 4, 1908. Late and honored member of Company B, Twelfth Regiment, Illinois Cavalry, including the years 1862 to 1865."

The figure is said to be a good likeness of the deceased, clad in his uniform of the private soldier of the Union Army and leaning on his cavalry sword.

SUPPLYING THE NATION'S CHANGE

Supplying the wealthiest nation in the world with change is a job of tremendous proportions. During 1924 the United States mints struck off 89,394,000 one cent pieces and 28,315,000 nickels. The small change of the nation was enlarged by 37,940,000 dimes and 16,892,000 quarters. While a drive was started to popularize the silver dollar, only 13,539,000 of the "silver cartwheels" were coined. Singularly, the half-dollar is the most unpopular coin that the United States makes. During 1925 there were just 142,080 half-dollars struck off, and all of these were the commemorative Huguenot-Walloon coins. The mints coined 10,300,500 double eagles.

NOTICE TO HERALD SUBSCRIBERS

On account of conditions prevailing among the farmers and generally in the county the policy of the Herald will be to carry over the subscriptions now due until another crop is made or until such time as it will be convenient for the subscriber to pay.

The usual policy is to make collections in the spring and fall of the year. The drouth has made it impossible to make collections at this time although a good many are renewing for another year.

If a subscriber feels he will not be able to pay the subscription price at this time he may feel at liberty to receive the paper until such time as convenience serves him.

It is not the desire of the paper that any should discontinue the paper on account of conditions.

The Herald has been published for 47 years in Milam county. It feels that its subscribers are entitled to this accommodation and it will be the policy of the paper to see that no subscriber loses his paper on account of the unfortunate conditions.

THE TREND OF DEMOCRACY.

The Waco Times-Herald's Jeffersonian Phillisopher is not enamored of the Republic's portents. The cricumstance that railroad corporations in Texas can not extend their lines without permission from a bureau in Washington does not set well upon his democartic conscience, but facts are facts and there is no way to escape them. The Esch-Cummins law was the product of a republican congress and it became effective only after it had received the approval of a democratic president.

The sovereign State went down in defeat when that law was enacted. Even the State of Texas would be powerless to build or extend a railroad line on its own land with its own money unless a body of political favorites in Washington, known as the Interstate Commerce Commission, gave it permission.

Think of it! A sovereign State of the American Union subordinate to a mere bureau in Washington.

Hear the Jeffersonian Philosopher:

Slowly but surely we are moving toward centralization in government, and fortunate indeed will we be if we escape the fate of the ancient republics.

Weakness of every democracy is to follow the man at the expense of some settled principle.

Knowing which the fathers drew up a constitution to act as a restraining power on the majority.

But we of this generation are either ignoring this restraining power or legislating through the constitution, thus playing with fire.

The demagogue is the forerunner of the despot.

A people who swallow the half-baked theories of the mountebank are sure to suffer acute indigestion in all their thinking.

Successive waves of applause can easily submerge freedom.

The people of Texas should demand of their senators and representatives unceasing warfare on the law which puts our Texas railroads under control of a Federal bureau.

We subscribe to all this doctrine, but we are not especially hopeful of ever getting back to the old safe ground of home rule. So far as the Texas senators and representatives waging warfare on the Esch-Cummins law, it is safe to say that they will do so.

Yet, we can not forget that our two senators voted to submit the infamous child labor amendment to the States, when their opposition would have defeated submission. The Esch-Cummins monstrosity is not nearly so outrageous an invasion of the rights of the States as that child labor amendment would have been, for the later proposed to better in the doors of the very homes of the land and would have been the greater disaster, for whereas the Esch-Cummins act is a statute that can be modified or repealed, the other was to have been rivited in the Federal constitution from which it would have been impossible to extract it save by revolution itself.

The centralistic tyrannies now established in Washington have changed the character of the Republic established by the fathers. Our whole trend is in that dangerous direction, and there seems to be little likelihood that the country will soon right about and get back to fundamental principles.

The democracy that once diffused liberty among the people is now concentrating power in a bureaucratic tyranny, and men who claim to be democtrats are helping the progressive movemen. along. There are voices crying in the wilderness, warning us of the inevitable result unless we halt, but not many are heeding such warnings. There was a time when the government was servant of the people, but we are upon the threshold of an era when the people will be merely subjects of a powerful central government.

In the meantime, the new head of the Federation of Labor has issued a circular to all bodies affiliated with that central organization urging another forward movement in behalf of the child labor amendment.—Houston Post-Dispatch.

WHY HUNT FOR ERRORS.

An editor whose readers evidently had been calling attention to typographical errors in his paper, stopped long enough in his work on the linotype to write this which may well be read thoughtfully by all:

"Next time you hear a citizen yelping about a typograhical error in his home paper, or in any other paper just hand him these few figures to stop his tongue:

"In an ordinary column there are 10,000 pieces of type; there are seven possible wrong positions for each letter; there are 70,000 chances to make an error, and millions of possible transpositions. In this one sentence, 'To be or not to be,' by transpositions. alone, it has been figured out, 2,759,022 errors can be made. Newspaper people, from the 'devil' up to the boss, and other high officials, are merely human, and liable to err. Don't be nosing around for errors, but read for the information you can get and the good you can get. You'll find errors enough in your daily walk through life without having to hunt for them in a newspaper."

ADVERTISING DID IT.

Wrigley, the chewing gum man, has explained how he built up a business of millions of packages a day.

He has done it by sticking to his one line and advertising it. He spends over a million dollars a year in buying newspaper space to tell the world about 5 cent chewing gum. He has educated people to chew gum and to chew Wrigley's. He did not stop shouting as soon as he attracted attention.

He says you must keep it up or the buyers will forget you. Whether yours is a 5 cent or a $50,000 business, keep telling about it.

LIVER TROUBLE

Louisiana Man Tells How He Keeps "Up and Going."

"It doesn't matter how strong and healthy we think we are," says Mr. W. S. Reynolds, of Arcadia, La., "every once in a while, in order to keep up and going, we have to cleanse the system and take a little something for the liver.

"My old standby is Black-Draught. I have used it off and on for 20 years.

"I get bilious and have a bad taste in my mouth. My head feels dull. I just don't feel like getting around and doing my work. I know it isn't laziness, but biliousness, so I take a few doses of Black-Draught and, when it acts, I get up feeling like new, full of pep and ready for any kind of work. I can certainly recommend it."

Black-Draught liver medicine is made from pure, medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful, habit-forming mineral drugs. In an easy, natural way it helps cleanse the system of poisonous impurities and tends to leave the organs in a normal, healthy condition.

ROCKDALE FARMER IS IN DEBT TO NO MAN

RAISES OWN LIVING AT HOME AND HAS HAD NO STORE BILLS FOR 11 YEARS.

"I see you are telling the world about that Cameron farmer who had a store account of only $31," said Lee Caywood as he dropped into the editorial sanctum Saturday morning. "Well, you can tell them you know a Rockdale farmer who has no store account whatever, and hasn't had one in eleven years—and that's me."

Lee Caywood owns a little farm out in the Talbot Ridge community, about three miles northeast of town. He cultivates less than 30 acres of ground but he does that cultivation scientifically and well. He uses both barnyard and commercial fertilizer, and he breaks his land nine inches deep and beds it high and wide. His annual program is to raise his own living, his own feed stuffs, have something to sell every time he goes to town, and his little cotton field is then clear velvet. If he fails to raise any cotton no merchant worries, because Lee Caywood doesn't buy anything on credit—not even drugs.

Lee's farm is of deep sand that conserves the mositure well, and this year in spite of the drouth he has already sold $255 worth of watermelons and cantaloupes and has another crop of both coming on. Lee says if the season had been right he would have sold $1500 worth of melons and cantaloupes by this time.

His annual program includes melons, cantaloupes, radishes, peas, turnips, plums, berries, grapes, and all kinds of garden truck in season, in addition to his feed crop and a small acreage of cotton. When he hasn't anything else to sell he cuts and sells wood. He has a few regular town customers who buy all their wood from him. He sells about 150 loads of wood every year, and manages to cut and haul same at odd times when his crops do not demand his attention.

Those who know Lee Caywood will agree with Reporterman when he says there is not a happier, jollier farmer in Matchless Milam. He does not live in a mansion, and his bank account is not plethoric, but he is never in debt, never hungry, and always contented—and after all, contentment is what makes happiness. Lee says diversification and a properly applied manner of sandy land farming will make anybody independent who practices it.—Rockdale Reporter.

Outstanding Hero of World War Is Victim of the Drouth.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 15—One of America's outstanding heroes of the World War is a victim of the drouth which has prevailed in this section of Texas for the last fifteen months. This fact became known Saturday when A. R. (Buck) Simpson appeared in the Capitol with former State Senator T. H. McGregor in an effort to find work.

Buck Simpson has been living with his wife and two babies on a goat ranch six miles west of Austin, but the lack of rain has destroyed the pasturage and the goat business is in a serious condition. Simpson is not an educated man and depended on the only business he has ever known. He was reared in the blue hills to the west of Austin and left them for France.

"This man has a wife and two babies and the family is actually in want," asserted Senator McGregor, as he placed the case before the State Board of Control with request that Simpson be given a watchman's position, which pays but a meager salary. "This man has no education," went on Mr. McGregor, "and he must support himself and family by manual labor."

"Five great Governments recognized his valor in behalf of the allies," continued Mr. McGregor, "he having received decorations from Franch, Italy, Belgium and the United States, with citiation by England and he received the distinguished service medal from the United States. This was not for one act of bravery, but he distinguished himself in the Argonne and at Chateau Thierry. It was in the Argonne that he alone cleaned out a whole nest of Germans with a machine gun and saved his own troops from slaughter. His valor there was recognized on all sides. He ranks with Sergt. York of Tennessee as one of the great American soldiers in the war and there is not enough we could do for him."

Simpson is an interesting figure He is a giant in stature with sandy hair, sparse built and his face and neck is burned by the hot sun which has shone this summer with unusual heat in the hills. He was collarless and coatless. His shoes were rusty and his blue hickory shirt was open at the throat, but it was clean. The man is quite modest and unassuming, taking no part in conversation, except when questioned. When asked about some specific heroic thing he did, he is visibly embarrassed and never admits doing it, always prefixing with "They said I did ti" or "I was supposed to have done it."

Senator McGregor was insistent that something be done and the board promised to do its best without delay, but had no place open.

"This man, his wife and two babies must be saved from the drouth," declared the Senator.

John E. Lee Is Host to Men at Oil Field Dinner.

John E. Lee gave another one of his famous "stag parties" Tuesday evening out at his oil field home. John E. Lee has become famous among men of this section of the great footstool as an entertainer, and upon this occasion he outdid himself. Starting at six p. m. an alfresco luncheon was served, at which almost one hundred of his friends from Rockdale, Cameron, Minerva and the oil fields were treated to a variety of dishes of that plain, satisfactory variety that leaves nothing to be desired. Home boiled ham and home cooked beans formed two of the principal articles of diet, and every man present insists that Mr. Lee must have some secret process of cooking these two common foods, the dishes were so good. Near-beer in bottles and kegs was also supplied, ad libitum, while the hospitality of the host was of that variety which makes it difficult for the guest to tear himself away.—Rockdale Reporter.

The vari-colored blossoms were furnished for the occasion from the beautiful garden of Mrs. R. D. Brown.

Fate Magnolia Test Not Yet Determined.

Just what is to be the final outcome of the Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1 M. M. Kime has not been determined, there being two or three feet of undrilled cement below the casing seat.

Friday night the hole was bailed down to about 30 feet of the bottom. Saturday morning when the bailer was again run it was found that sulphur—had risen in the casing between 300 and 500 feet at the rate of 25 to 30 barrels a day. Exactly where the sulphur and salt water comes in is the puzzle. Among experienced Luling operators and drillers, however, the optimistic opinion is freely expressed that the hole is not yet ready to be pronounced a failure, not withstanding the exodus of the scouts and the big company representatives. In the meantime, the incipient "boom" has been deflated.

Baptist Meeting at Yarrellton Ends.

Sunday night marked the close of a splendid Baptist meeting at Yarrellton. Services were conducted under an arbor by Rev. Wesley Raley for two weeks. Singing was led by Mr. Forman of the Ft. Worth Seminary. There were eighty nine additions to the Yarrellton church and sixty one converts were baptized in the river at Bryant Station on Monday morning.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

The pastor was greeted by unusually large audience last Sunday, and the response of the preached word was encouraging. Nearly every one listened intently, but our four or five regular sleepers were also on the job. We are trying to arrange for cots and pillows for these few church sleepers —they look so uncomfortable asleep in the pews.

Last week's prayer meeting reached the 100 mark in attendance. On Wednesday night Aug. 26th, one of the most interesting, and well informed lay speakers of the local church will conduct the prayer service, and present some of the activities of the church, that will be a revelation and surprise to the most of the members. The hotter the weather, the larger crowds we have at our Wednesday prayer services. Plenty of fans splendid special music, good followship.

Our Sunday School forces are girding up their strength, and putting forth new energies and new plans. The closing exercises for the entire school are now conducted in the beautiful church auditorium, and this meets with the approval of all.

The pastor will preach at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Special music at both services.

WHAT MY NEIGHBOR SAYS.

Is of Interest to Cameron Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Cameron resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Mrs. O. C. Wilson, 824 Washington St., says: "My back ached and at times it was so lame I felt as though I had been beaten. Bending or stooping sent sharp, shoting pains through the small of my back and it seemed impossible for me to straighten. Spells of dizziness often came over me and my kidneys acted often. Nights found me worn out and irritable and often my feet were swollen. After using Doan's Pills from the New Cameron Drug Co., my kidney trouble was ended."

THE FEDERAL RESERVE A NATIONAL PROBLEM

By WILLIAM E. KNOX
President, American Bankers Association

The Federal Reserve situation is the paramount problem before American banking today. The time is approaching when it will be necessary for the nation to consider the question of rechartering the Federal Reserve Banks.

William E. Knox

The Federal Reserve System must be preserved. It is one of the most scientific banking systems in the world. During the last ten years, through all the stress of war, inflation, depression and revival, it served this country as no country was ever served by a banking system. We know that without it our nation would have had a financial disaster far more devastating than any that ever assailed it.

While we have this great loyalty and obligation to the System, we must recognize that among its friends there has risen serious controversy over many matters of detail. There are many demands for change in the methods of its management and in details of its operation. Where these demands represent broadly the greatest good of the greatest number we should support them. Where they represent merely narrow, diverse interests of one part of the country or one type of business or finance, they should be subordinated to the common good. We should meet on the great broad ground of the common welfare—first to preserve the system in general as it is now constructed, and secondly to bring about, carefully and soundly, such changes as are required to adjust it to circumstances of today.

The task of considering, sifting, weighing and co-ordinating discussion and suggestions regarding the Federal Reserve System has been confided to the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. It is hoped that thereby the Federal Reserve System will be given the best thought and the best support of banking. There is no greater service banking can render the nation than this. It goes right to the heart of good management of the public economy of America.

The Mint's Sidelines

The United States mints make other objects besides coins. All of the medals for the army and navy are turned out by the mints. Medals of all the Presidents, the Secretaries of the Treasury, the Directors of the Mints, have been designed and executed by the mints. Recently the mints inaugurated the practice of making medals of the Under Secretaries of the Treasury. Congress has authorized the mint to make up 40,000 medals to commemorate the arrival of the first shipload of Norse immigrants on board the sloop Restaur Ationen, which is to be celebrated at the Norse-American Centennial in Minnesota next summer.

At the last session of Congress there was a flood of bills seeking to have commemorative half dollars minted. The prior session authorized the minting of the Huguenot half dollars and of 5,000,000 half dollars to signalize the start of work on the Stone Mountain carving, which will serve as a monument to the valor of the soldiers of the South. On the Federal coins appear Generals Lee and Jackson, the two leaders of the Confederate forces in the Civil War.

A Flood of Coins

With the 150th anniversary of the great battles of the American revolution approaching, bills were passed last winter to issue coins commemorating the stand of the minutemen at Lexington and Concord and the battle of the Green Mountain patriots at Bennington in Vermont. Proposals were made to pay tribute in a similar way to the battle of Bunker Hill, the victory at Yorktown and other events American history, such as the 200th anniversary of the founding of Stoughton, Mass., and the 50th anniversary of the admission of California to the Union.

Fearing that the growth of this practice would open the way to counterfeiting and make the protection of the integrity of the coins more difficult, Secretary Mellon openly opposed the creation of these special coins, but was not entirely successful in his efforts. He insisted that the practice introduced confusion into our system of coinage, brought about an unnecessary expense and satisfied a very limited demand, because the public generally has never shown a special liking to the commemorative coins.

However, Congress felt that these great events were worthy of commemoration and authorized the coins—all of which are to be sold at a premium so that the promoters of these events may raise funds by this extra charge to defray part of the expense attached. The records of the Treasury show that the special coins, as a general rule, are seldom absorbed in circulation. The Monroe coin issue was a dismal failure—217,000 of the 274,000 struck off were turned back to the Treasury for melting up. — Journal American Bankers Association.

Marrs Is Candidate For Another Term.

Austin, Texas, Apg. 15.—In answer to numerous injuiries from friends of public education througout the State, Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs announced Saturday that he would be a candidate to succeed himself. In commenting upon his candidacy, Mr. Marrs said:

"The fact that last year I was elected without opposition by the largest vote ever given to a State official indicates the approval that has been given to my efforts to give the people of Texas a sound, conservative, economical business administration of the public school system. My opposition to frequent changes of textbooks and consequent exploitation of the school fund has met with universial approval. Last year, for the first time in the history of the State, $2 of the per capita apportionment was distributed in September and the entire per capita was paid by May 1. The surplus accumulated during the textbook litigation will enable us to distribute $2 per capita again this September. At the proper time, I shall make a formal statement of the constructive measures already accomplished and propose certain additional school legislation which should be enacted."

Mr. Marrs recently delivered an address in Cameron on Trustees' Day.

Low Transportation In Chevrolet Cars.

Los Angeles to Detroit at a total cost of $22.20.

That is what it costs in a Chevrolet according to Joseph L. Rogers, Hollywood, and A. V. Gallina, Los Angeles, insurance men who recently made the trip of 3,104 miles at an expense of $44.40 for gasoline, oil and food or seven-tenths of a cent per man per mile.

The Chevrolet used was a sedan owned by Mr. Gallina. It had been driven only 630 miles before they decided to make a vacation tour to the Detroit home of Mr. Roger's brother, Clifford W. Rogers.

Alternating at the wheel, they made the trip in five days and 18 hours, only a day and one half, longer than the time of the transcontinental fiyers which travel a much shorter distance due to the windings of the motor road.

The tourists gave no particular thought either to the speed or economy of the trip until they were questioned in Detroit by the manager of a Chevrolet service station where they stopped on arrival to change the crank case oil. He induced them to visit W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company General Motors building. After inspecting and driving the car, Mr. Knudsen pronounced it in excellent mechanical condition.

"The trip was in no sense a stunt," said Mr. Rogers. "We had no accidents except a puncture, the repair of which incidentally is included in the expense budget. Our only adventure was finding two Indian children nearly dead of thirst on a lonely stretch of desert road in New Mexico. They fell on their knees when we gave them a bottle of water."

NEVER BE WITHOUT IT for it immediately eases sudden severe, colicky pains and cramps in stomach and bowels, deadly nausea and weakening diarrhoea. For children and grown-up use

INTENSE PAIN

Lady, Also Nervous and Weak, Relieved by Cardui.

"I was ill and had to stay in bed under treatment for about two weeks without any improvement in my condition, which was serious," says Mrs. J. T. Abercrombie, R. F. D. 7, Brookville, Ind.

"I had intense pain in my side. I was so nervous and weak and just out of heart. . . .

"After taking one bottle of Cardui, I felt like getting up. My nerves seemed steadier and I didn't feel so weak. I kept up taking Cardui and was soon feeling like my old self. . .

"I am such a believer in Cardui until when I get nervous and weak I take it. I took it before my children were born. It strengthened me and helped my nerves.

"I took a cold and . . . my back felt so weak and I had such pulling pains. I took Cardui and didn't have any more trouble.

"I fell and broke my arm. The fall shook me up and made me very nervous. I told them Cardui would help that, and it did."
